Ig I'll start using some packages since I neglected other sections, the resolution sucks tho.

I don't sleep the night before the exam, well yeah the stress but I'm also afraid the alarms would fail me. That spicy shrimp bowl sucks tbh, nothing on campus tastes good smh (except milk tea). I also finished a review paper yesterday, kinda proud of myself ngl I might post it later here after I finish fixing some latex errors.

Speaking of latex, I'm surprised no one mentioned this in high school, as it is extremely important in college, especially for those who want to write reports or papers. Use overleaf too, unless ppl want to be old school and use emacs or other editors, but that's like the king of the nerds cuz why don't they just use overleaf.
