I'm in a good mood today, maybe I've figured something out, or not. Not going to talk about my second favorite today cuz I'm tired rn and nothing really happened to me. So what about my favorite? Well I don't know, it is actually the thing that I would try my best to avoid talking about. Not that I'm scared or anything, but because all my thoughts are linked to it. What I really want, is a 15 touch bout, and whoever wins must pay for the coffees. Doesn't count if I lost, not that I will tho.
