I actually don't care if anyone else is reading this. Again, I'm scared of a lot of things but I'm not scared of loving someone. Plus if I can do everything better, why do they think they can judge me.

I'm not trapping myself in a cage I created like two years ago

I have some clues right now, I didn't know shit two years ago, and yes I do blame you for that, well me too, but not like I can find everything instantly.

And no, this is not me sweet talking, I'm honestly terrible at it.

but thank you pookie, and I shouldn't have asked you that stupid question in the first place cuz who else is worthy enough to be in my future.
