I want to work with my PI next year mannnnn, but he is retiring after this semester and won't be around after spring. Ppl I care about keep fading away, I'm kinda getting used to it at this point.

There is one anime I really like, not my favorite but it is Zom 100, there should be more zombie-themed anime fr. I don't know what will be on my list tbh, but as of now, one of them will probably be sneaking onto the ESS building rooftop with you and watching the sunset together.

Feels like I've known you my whole life ~

I can see right through your lies ~

I don't know where we're going ~

But I'd like to be by your side ~

If you could tell me how you're feelin' ~

Maybe we'd get through this undefeated ~

Holdin' on for so long ~

'Cause we could stay at home or watch the sunset ~

But I can't help from askin', "Are you bored yet?" ~

And if you're feelin' lonely, you should tell me ~

Before this ends up as another memory ~
