I have a small whiteboard that I use to write my weekly schedule, but I only write things in the simplest form, so for work I'll just write my pi's name, and buy ketchup will just be ketchup. Half the time I end up forgetting what I actually meant, like wtf is plan p, I still have no idea what I was thinking when I wrote that down, maybe plan next semester's classes, idk lol.

i think i saw something, but im not sure, me happy tho.
