I just met my last pi, still have to return his books, but we had a small chat and he agreed to write me a GOOD letter and then told me to apply some good grads, GOD BLESS HIM, and his kids, and grandkids, and greatgrandkids, greatgreatgrandkids and everyone he cares about.

Weinacht is teaching amo, yes i actually paid attention in a physics class, i mean hes js so hot, even hotter in person, i think its true that 80% of physics majors loved him. i think i just have 0 resistance toward people whose hair naturally turns gray/white due to stress or studying. It's not like i have inappropriate thoughts in mind but i just really really really respect them.
