think im gonna miss this school when i graduate, well only the milk tea food truck, professors, and friends, everything else sucks. and someone pls tell mamdani to launch the athena telescope right now, i dont want to do theories in grad. i feel like everyone dreams of becoming a theorist until they see a TA who's younger than them teaching their class. bro really just finished high school in less than a year, got a BS from another school, then transferred here just to mog us.
