I went to the gym today despite having 9128391230 reading assignments, but half of them are from dostoevsky so i dont mind, btw fyodor dostoevsky, if u are reading this, pls, i want to have your babies. sry but dostoevsky mogs every other writers. i dont really care about muscles tbh, i just want the muscle strains, idk, i like to torture myself when i hate myself. also did some sit ups on the bathroom floor bc i forgot to do them while i was still in the gym, i want my whole body in pain. compare to the places i used to sleep, bathroom floors are actually pretty clean. theres so little i can do, and so little that i know, a pretty face without any expression, overall me useless, and what can i do, theres nothing i can do, not a single god damn thing i could think of, and what do i know, 0 clue. why do i get pissed so often, well cuz im mad at myself. im definitely going to fencing practices this semester and keep an eye on the tournaments, i really want to hit ppl or let ppl hit me, i mean not on purpose ofc, i just want some bruises.

ill also post everything i wrote from last year, and then delete everything from this web after the 28th, i want to start from scratch, ill still be here tho but like just a reset. yes some posts contain names but i doubt ppl can find them by the end of the 28th. and yes i still remember what i promised to myself.
