

---

sometimes i dont know why am i still here talking to myself, i lost counts of how many i wrote, maybe hundreds not even counting the ones i didnt post. only if i could do anything. and i cant fucking do anything. there is not a thing i can do. i dont even know anything. so what rights do i have to think i knew. why, do i think i can change anything. why do i even think whatever i do matters anyway.