meds out dont want to refill it, makes ppl numb, had to fake happy or mad sometimes, so stupid. maybe one of reason why i dont think everything makes sense, i dont even know if what i feel now is real or not.sometimes i just want to give up, an eraser would do, erase my existence, just tired, tired of this loop. how many times i need to distract myself, couldnt count, scary. no im not talking about coma, but seriously, how do i make myself forget myself, like, everything about myself.
